ARMORY

WEAPONS STORAGE

Panthera Training's weapons storage facility is a reinforced concrete building constructed of 8" CMU block with reinforced wiring between each joint, and rebar installed in open webbing for added protection. CMU block has been poured solid with the grout to ensure cohesion. The interior ceiling consists of 6" poured and reinforced 5,000-psi concrete, with wire and rebar reinforcements. The building is enclosed within a ten-foot chain-link fence topped with three strands of barbed wire. The fence has one vehicle gate and one pedestrian gate, both of which are locked with heavy-duty padlocks. Dusk-to-dawn lights can be found on each corner of the building. There is positive key/combination control with only three individuals having unescorted access to the armory building/weapons vault.

The weapons vault has a GSA approved, class 5-A armory door which conforms to Federal Specification AA-D-600D as class 5-A. The vault door and locking mechanism meet the requirements of Federal Specification AA-D-600D, Amendment #2 Federal Specification FF-L_2937. Weapons are stored in individual vaults inside the main weapons vault area. The system is tested quarterly and kept up to date.

AMMUNITION STORAGE

The facility and clientele ammunitions storage area are certified to meet and exceed ATF specifications for "type 2" magazines.
